

OUT IN HIGHLAND.

Not the Right Sign to Cut the Timber.

HONESTY AND SUPERSTITION.

The Faithful Service of a Richmond Gold-digger—A Robbery—A Hunter's Bad Luck with His Money—Marriage Announcement.

MONTGOMERY, HIGHLAND COUNTY, Oct. 12.—(Special)—A case in which honesty and superstition were probably the causes came under the observation of our correspondents recently. A poor, uneducated contraband, whose large family spent much of his daily toll for their parents living, and who makes rude wooden chairs, hand hay-rakes, and such-like, was heard to remark that he had a good many orders in but could not fill them, as it was the wrong time to cut the timber! In this day and age when it seems to be a sort of racket for lucre, such honesty is, to say the least, remarkable, and, in a measure protects him from the poor below all censure and blame.

George W. Pfleiderer, living six miles west of Montezuma, has a trinket shop which he conducted at Richmond for three years ago. When the measure was three feet in diameter; it was twelve but six inches, and the venerable owner, is slowly yielding the threads of time.

A ROBBERY.

Mr. W. S. Simon of McDevitt, this evening while absent from his office a robber, who had, in several newspaper papers, stoned from his coat pocket. There is no clue to the robbery.

The diamondeller, who resides in Montgomery County, West Virginia, was riding miles west of home, and was soon overtaken by a band of horsemen who had returned from an excursion to the creeks, whether together with the Penrose sporting club or Philadelphia. Mr. Keller was at Keller's Hall during the late Indian raids there, and it was feared for a moment that he had been massacred; but as the adventure, as through many years during his life, he came out "right wise," so to speak, in Staunton, on his way home, he Keller had the pluck to face a robber, and, though the money in the watch-pocket was taken, he missed the pocket and lost by means of the pants leg.

Williams J. A. Ordorff and L. S.
McDevitt are in eastern and northern states purchasing their fall and winter merchandise.

PERSONAL.

Miss Mattie Trimble and her daughter, Miss Mabel, are visiting kindred in the state of New Mexico.

John Charles Gaskin and several other prominent planters, passed through Montgomery this week, returning to Union, W. Va., where they were attending presbytery.

C. A. Arboeck and R. B. Staven are in Peninsula county, in the interest of their business.

J. J. Bennett left yesterday for Staunton to absent several days.

Mr. C. H. Rivers, who has been in Washington, Va., for several months, is returning home.

Autumn court cards are out for the marriages of Miss Anna Carrick of Dowell to Mr. E. P. Gillett, of Bath county. The ceremony will take place in the McDowell Methodist church on the 24 instant.

MAHONE'S SUCCESSOR.

What a Member of the Republican Executive Committee Says.

ROANOKE, VA., October 12.—(Special) George W. Mahon, Jr., Martin, a member of the State Republican Executive Committee, and a warm personal friend of General Mahone, was so anxious as to the probable success of General Mahone as chairman of the party in Virginia, and that General Mahone was to be a agent of the party who would influence the outlook of the state. This he said to General Walker, Colonel Foster or one or two others, but he had no connection with the master, and did not know how the State Committee
acted.

The State Committee is composed of six members from each constituent district.

HAVE THE POWER.

For the sake of organization, the
Committee, composed of General
Foster, Hollingshead and himself, started out to see General Mahone was dead, had been killed in the State Committee to see what they deemed best, but
the result of the campaign was predicted by the auspices of the "honest old foxes," which was a foretaste of what was to come.

General Walker, Colonel
Foster or one or two others, but he had
no connection with the master, and did
not know how the State Committee
acted.

The State Committee is composed
of six members from each con-
stituent district.

OUR POWER.

For the sake of organization, the
Committee, composed of General
Foster, Hollingshead and himself, started
out to see General Mahone was dead, had
been killed in the State Committee to
see what they deemed best, but
the result of the campaign was pre-
dicted by the auspices of the "honest
old foxes," which was a foretaste of
what was to come.

General Walker, Colonel
Foster or one or two others, but he had
no connection with the master, and did
not know how the State Committee
acted.

The State Committee is composed
of six members from each con-
stituent district.

OUR POWER.

For the sake of organization, the
Committee, composed of General
Foster, Hollingshead and himself, started
out to see General Mahone was dead, had
been killed in the State Committee to
see what they deemed best, but
the result of the campaign was pre-
dicted by the auspices of the "honest
old foxes," which was a foretaste of
what was to come.

General Walker, Colonel
Foster or one or two others, but he had
no connection with the master, and did
not know how the State Committee
acted.

The State Committee is composed
of six members from each con-
stituent district.

OUR POWER.

For the sake of organization, the
Committee, composed of General
Foster, Hollingshead and himself, started
out to see General Mahone was dead, had
been killed in the State Committee to
see what they deemed best, but
the result of the campaign was pre-
dicted by the auspices of the "honest
old foxes," which was a foretaste of
what was to come.

General Walker, Colonel
Foster or one or two others, but he had
no connection with the master, and did
not know how the State Committee
acted.

The State Committee is composed
of six members from each con-
stituent district.

OUR POWER.

For the sake of organization, the
Committee, composed of General
Foster, Hollingshead and himself, started
out to see General Mahone was dead, had
been killed in the State Committee to
see what they deemed best, but
the result of the campaign was pre-
dicted by the auspices of the "honest
old foxes," which was a foretaste of
what was to come.

General Walker, Colonel
Foster or one or two others, but he had
no connection with the master, and did
not know how the State Committee
acted.

The State Committee is composed
of six members from each con-
stituent district.

OUR POWER.

For the sake of organization, the
Committee, composed of General
Foster, Hollingshead and himself, started
out to see General Mahone was dead, had
been killed in the State Committee to
see what they deemed best, but
the result of the campaign was pre-
dicted by the auspices of the "honest
old foxes," which was a foretaste of
what was to come.

General Walker, Colonel
Foster or one or two others, but he had
no connection with the master, and did
not know how the State Committee
acted.

The State Committee is composed
of six members from each con-
stituent district.

OUR POWER.

For the sake of organization, the
Committee, composed of General
Foster, Hollingshead and himself, started
out to see General Mahone was dead, had
been killed in the State Committee to
see what they deemed best, but
the result of the campaign was pre-
dicted by the auspices of the "honest
old foxes," which was a foretaste of
what was to come.

General Walker, Colonel
Foster or one or two others, but he had
no connection with the master, and did
not know how the State Committee
acted.

The State Committee is composed
of six members from each con-
stituent district.

OUR POWER.

For the sake of organization, the
Committee, composed of General
Foster, Hollingshead and himself, started
out to see General Mahone was dead, had
been killed in the State Committee to
see what they deemed best, but
the result of the campaign was pre-
dicted by the auspices of the "honest
old foxes," which was a foretaste of
what was to come.

General Walker, Colonel
Foster or one or two others, but he had
no connection with the master, and did
not know how the State Committee
acted.

The State Committee is composed
of six members from each con-
stituent district.

OUR POWER.

For the sake of organization, the
Committee, composed of General
Foster, Hollingshead and himself, started
out to see General Mahone was dead, had
been killed in the State Committee to
see what they deemed best, but
the result of the campaign was pre-
dicted by the auspices of the "honest
old foxes," which was a foretaste of
what was to come.

General Walker, Colonel
Foster or one or two others, but he had
no connection with the master, and did
not know how the State Committee
acted.

The State Committee is composed
of six members from each con-
stituent district.

OUR POWER.

For the sake of organization, the
Committee, composed of General
Foster, Hollingshead and himself, started
out to see General Mahone was dead, had
been killed in the State Committee to
see what they deemed best, but
the result of the campaign was pre-
dicted by the auspices of the "honest
old foxes," which was a foretaste of
what was to come.

General Walker, Colonel
Foster or one or two others, but he had
no connection with the master, and did
not know how the State Committee
acted.

The State Committee is composed
of six members from each con-
stituent district.

OUR POWER.

For the sake of organization, the
Committee, composed of General
Foster, Hollingshead and himself, started
out to see General Mahone was dead, had
been killed in the State Committee to
see what they deemed best, but
the result of the campaign was pre-
dicted by the auspices of the "honest
old foxes," which was a foretaste of
what was to come.

General Walker, Colonel
Foster or one or two others, but he had
no connection with the master, and did
not know how the State Committee
acted.

The State Committee is composed
of six members from each con-
stituent district.

OUR POWER.

For the sake of organization, the
Committee, composed of General
Foster, Hollingshead and himself, started
out to see General Mahone was dead, had
been killed in the State Committee to
see what they deemed best, but
the result of the campaign was pre-
dicted by the auspices of the "honest
old foxes," which was a foretaste of
what was to come.

General Walker, Colonel
Foster or one or two others, but he had
no connection with the master, and did
not know how the State Committee
acted.

The State Committee is composed
of six members from each con-
stituent district.

OUR POWER.

For the sake of organization, the
Committee, composed of General
Foster, Hollingshead and himself, started
out to see General Mahone was dead, had
been killed in the State Committee to
see what they deemed best, but
the result of the campaign was pre-
dicted by the auspices of the "honest
old foxes," which was a foretaste of
what was to come.

General Walker, Colonel
Foster or one or two others, but he had
no connection with the master, and did
not know how the State Committee
acted.

The State Committee is composed
of six members from each con-
stituent district.

OUR POWER.

For the sake of organization, the
Committee, composed of General
Foster, Hollingshead and himself, started
out to see General Mahone was dead, had
been killed in the State Committee to
see what they deemed best, but
the result of the campaign was pre-
dicted by the auspices of the "honest
old foxes," which was a foretaste of
what was to come.

General Walker, Colonel
Foster or one or two others, but he had
no connection with the master, and did
not know how the State Committee
acted.

The State Committee is composed
of six members from each con-
stituent district.

OUR POWER.

For the sake of organization, the
Committee, composed of General
Foster, Hollingshead and himself, started
out to see General Mahone was dead, had
been killed in the State Committee to
see what they deemed best, but
the result of the campaign was pre-
dicted by the auspices of the "honest
old foxes," which was a foretaste of
what was to come.

General Walker, Colonel
Foster or one or two others, but he had
no connection with the master, and did
not know how the State Committee
acted.

The State Committee is composed
of six members from each con-
stituent district.

OUR POWER.

For the sake of organization, the
Committee, composed of General
Foster, Hollingshead and himself, started
out to see General Mahone was dead, had
been killed in the State Committee to
see what they deemed best, but
the result of the campaign was pre-
dicted by the auspices of the "honest
old foxes," which was a foretaste of
what was to come.

General Walker, Colonel
Foster or one or two others, but he had
no connection with the master, and did
not know how the State Committee
acted.

The State Committee is composed
of six members from each con-
stituent district.

OUR POWER.

For the sake of organization, the
Committee, composed of General
Foster, Hollingshead and himself, started
out to see General Mahone was dead, had
been killed in the State Committee to
see what they deemed best, but
the result of the campaign was pre-
dicted by the auspices of the "honest
old foxes," which was a foretaste of
what was to come.

General Walker, Colonel
Foster or one or two others, but he had
no connection with the master, and did
not know how the State Committee
acted.

The State Committee is composed
of six members from each con-
stituent district.

OUR POWER.

For the sake of organization, the
Committee, composed of General
Foster, Hollingshead and himself, started
out to see General Mahone was dead, had
been killed in the State Committee to
see what they deemed best, but
the result of the campaign was pre-
dicted by the auspices of the "honest
old foxes," which was a foretaste of
what was to come.

General Walker, Colonel
Foster or one or two others, but he had
no connection with the master, and did
not know how the State Committee
acted.

The State Committee is composed
of six members from each con-
stituent district.

OUR POWER.

For the sake of organization, the
Committee, composed of General
Foster, Hollingshead and himself, started
out to see General Mahone was dead, had
been killed in the State Committee to
see what they deemed best, but
the result of the campaign was pre-
dicted by the auspices of the "honest
old foxes," which was a foretaste of
what was to come.

General Walker, Colonel
Foster or one or two others, but he had
no connection with the master, and did
not know how the State Committee
acted.

The State Committee is composed
of six members from each con-
stituent district.

OUR POWER.

For the sake of organization, the
Committee, composed of General
Foster, Hollingshead and himself, started
out to see General Mahone was dead, had
been killed in the State Committee to
see what they deemed best, but
the result of the campaign was pre-
dicted by the auspices of the "honest
old foxes," which was a foretaste of
what was to come.

General Walker, Colonel
Foster or one or two others, but he had
no connection with the master, and did
not know how the State Committee
acted.

The State Committee is composed
of six members from each con-
stituent district.